INTRODUCTION

When Mr. Asher in 1867 published his Bibliographical and Historical Essay containing the titles of 357 pamphlets bearing on the history of New-Netherland, the West-India Company etc., he had examined more than 27000 pamphlets, which all had been published between 1600-1664, the period of the rise, the decline and fall of the Company which founded New-Netherland, and whose history is therefore so much valued by the student of early American History.

At the beginning of the 17th Century, when Holland had risen to the rank of a great power, Usselincx, the genial merchant, schemed his great plan, viz. the foundation of the West-India Company.

«William Usselincx», Mr. Asher says «brought to America the nation in which the principle of free communities (the vital principle of American liberty) was carried out to its full extent».

But his plans were thwarted by the negociations about a truce with Spain, which would make the West-India company impossible by the forbidding of all attacks on the Spanish settlements.

Usselincx wrote a series of pamphlets against this truce which belong to the most remarkable productions of that class of litterature; invain, only in 1621 when war with Spain was renewed the career of the Company could begin.

Three successes of truly historical importance mark the first ten years of the Company's existence. The Taking of the Bahia in 1624, which however had to be given up again the next year (see. nº 69 of our catalogue), the capture of the Silverfleet in 1628. (see. nºs 70-72) and the conquest of Fernambuco and the whole of the Portuguese possessions to the north of Olinda in 1630 (see. nº 90).

From 1630-1642 these Brasilian conquests went steadily on interrupted only by one single check), Curaçao was taken and New-Netherland, the Company's North-American Colony grew more and more prosperous. Then however, badly supported, by the Government, it could no longer resist the Portuguese who moreover found allies even among the Company's officers; Count Maurice of Nassau, one of the ablest men of the 17th century, finding opposition where he expected support, left Brasil in 1644 and ten years later the troops had to evacuate the country. During these latter years battles were fought which, as for the number of dead and wounded, were not less murderous than those occurring in the colonial wars of our present time (see. nºs 135, 136, 141, 142).

The Company's fate drew nearer every year till the death-blow was struck in 1664 when New-Netherland, the Company's last valuable possession, was conquerred by the English (see. nº 197).

These pamphlets, the documents for American history, were rare at Mr. Asher's time, several of them have now become almost undiscoverable. The «Breede-Raedt» (see. nº 195) to which Mr. Asher dedicates pp. 183-200 of his Essay, was considered one of the most costly pieces of the Exhibition held during the International Congress of Publishers at Amsterdam in 1910. And many more of our Catalogue will seldom if ever be offered for sale again, considering that there are those which Mr. Asher in his scrutinous searching did not come across: which are not even to be found among the 20.000 pamphlets of the Royal Library at The Hague, (described by Dr. W. P. C. Knuttel) or as far as we have been able to ascertain, in any other Public or Private library.

1. WRITINGS OF W. USSELINCX

1 (W. Usselincx). — Den Nederlandtschen Bye-korf: Waer in Ghy beschreven vindt (al tghene dat nu wtghegaen is / op den Stilstand of te Vrede . . . In 't Jaer Zestien hondert en acht (= 1608).

Asher, page 87. Nos 1, 2 (two editions), 3, 4 (three editions), 5 (two editions), 6, 7 (four editions), 8 (two editions), 9 (four editions), 10 (two editions), 11, 12 (two editions), 13 (two editions), 14, 15, 16 (two editions), 17 (three editions), 18-22, 23 (two editions), 24 (two editions), 25 (two editions), 26-31, 32 (two editions), 33 (two editions), 34-38. — 60 pieces.

Most valuable complete collection of 38 pamphlets published in 1607-08, against the Peace with Spain. They contain precious material for the history of the early commerce of the Hollanders with America, the most interesting of them having been written by Usselincx.

Asher in his Essay gives the contents of the Collection, numbering 38 pamphlets, but does not mention the 22 different editions which we add to the collection. As early as the 17th century a complete set was rare, and is called in Mr. Fr. Muller's latest Catalogue of 1910 „introuvable" at this time.

135 Copie de trois lettres escrittes du Bresil par l'Admirail Wit Witsen. Amsterdam n. d. [1648] 4°.

In the first letter the writer, who must be the famous admiral Witte Corneliszoon de With, complains of the bad state in which the vessels are; hardly fit to cross the ocean. He states that the colony will soon be reduced to the greatest misery, the inhabitants are starving not being able to do any business at such a state of things. In the second letter of July 20th the admiral criticizes the conduct of the commander of the army who consequently suffered a loss of 1100 men dead and wounded in the battle of April 18th. In his third letter of the 27th he gives information about the doings of the fleet.

These letters were not known to Asher nor did we anywhere find them mentioned. They give information of the highest interest for the history of the West India Company. The writer finding thad his advice was not listened to, returned to Holland, and was put into prison for having deserted his post. This again lead to the conflict between the Prince of Orange and the Province of Holland· (See: de Jonge, Geschiedenis van het Nederlandsche Zeewezen).

(Homely advice to the United Netherland Provinces, Guelders. Holland. Zeeland, Utrecht. Friesland. Overyssel. Groningen. Made up and composed from divers true and faithful documents). Asher 334.

Mr. Fr. Muller in his Catalogue of 1872 writing of this pamphlet says: This excessively rare pamphlet is, no doubt, the most important document existing on New-Netherland; its importance was discovered by Mr. Asher in ransacking in 1849 my 20 à 25000 pamphlets. See on it at large Asher's Essay where he dedicates full 18 pages (183—200) to it.

As far as we have been able to ascertain, no other copy but Mr. Muller's, has ever been offered for sale.

(Reasons why the United Provinces should become England's allies ...).

The 9th Reason is: By a close Entente with England we shall get a definite agreement about the limits between New-Netherland and New-England. Otherwise we are to lose that country.

197 Artykelen, Van 't overgaan van Nieuw-Nederlandt. Op den 27 Augustus, 1614. Symon Gilde van Rarop, Schipper op 't Schip de Gideon, komende van de Menates, of Nieuw-Amsterdam in Nieuw-Nederlandt, raporteert dat Nieuw-Nederlandt, ... aan de Engelsen is over-gegeven, op Conditien als volght/.

(Articles of the surrender of New Netherland on the 27 August O. S, 1664). Asher 334

Simon Gilde van Rarop, captain of the ship the Gideon, coming from the Menates or New Amsterdam reports that New Netherland... was given up to the English, on the 8 Sept., on the following conditions. A large sheet in fol. printed but on one side, and probably destined for a poster.

Asher writes in his Essay: The only copy of these articles which I have been able to find is in the Thysiana.

198 Extract, Uyt 't Register der Resolutien van de Staten Generaal der Ver. Nederl. op de Memorie van ... G. Downing ... 11 Dec. 1664. 4°. (Knuttel 8879).

199 Memorie van George Downing ... overgegeven aen de Staten Generael ... 30 Dec. 1664. 4°. (Knuttel 8883).

(Memorial of George Downing delivered to the States General Dec. 30th. 1664). About hostilities against English ships and a declaration that the formerly called New Netherland was situated within the limits of New England.

200 Antwoorde van den Koninck van Groot Bretaignen ... aen de Fransche Ambassadeurs, Mediateurs, ter saecke vant accomodement en de vrede tusschen Engeland ende de Ver. Nederl. Haerl. 1665. 4°. (Knuttel 9098).

Answer of the King of England, through Milord Arlinghton, to the French Ambassadors about the Peace between England and Holland. (Not mentioned by Asher). Text in Dutch and French.

The king declares that the Dutch had no right at all on New-Netherland, they had heen allowed to stay there, but the King having received complaints of the inhabitants and their neighbours of unbearable grievances had resolved to free them.

201 Deductie Ingestelt tot onderrichtinge van den Koningh van Groot Britannien. Op verscheyden Poincten vervat in seeckere Antwoorde van wegen S. M. gegeven aen den ambassadeur van de Staten Generael. 's Grav. 1664. (Knuttel 8873).

(Deduction to be delivered to the King of England in consequence of his answer to the ambassador of the States General).

202 Sommiere Aenteykeninge ende deductie Ingestelt by de . . . Staten Generael op de lest-ingediende Memorie van den Heere George Downing, extra ord. Envoyé van den Koningh van Groot Brittannie. 's Grav. 1665. 4°.

(Summary remarks and deductions made up by the deputies of their High Might. the States General on the last memorial presented by Sir George Downing, envoy extraordinary from the King of Great Britain). Knuttel 9025. Asher 345.

Being one of the Memoirs destined to convince the King of France, that in the war with England, that country was the aggressor; the remarks contain a deduction of the Dutch title to New Netherland, on purpose to prove that Charles II had no right to occupy that country.

203 Sommiere Aenteyckeninge . . . The same. A reprint of nº. 202. (Knuttel 9028. Asher 346).

209 Antwoort Van zijne K. M. van Groot Brittanjen in date den 4 of 14 October 1666 op de Missive van de . . . Staten Generaal . . . date 16 Sept. 1666. . . . . Rott. 1666. 4º. (Knuttel 9378).

(Answer of his Majesty the King of England dd. 4/14 Oct. 1666 to the Letter of the States General).

210 Missive van den Coningh van Groot Brittannien, Geschreven aen de H. M. Heeren Staten Generael . . . dato den 4 October 1666. Met korte Aenmerkingen ende Aenwysinge. 's Grav. 1666. (Knuttel 9380).

(Letter from the King of Great Britain to the States General dated Oct. 4th 1666 with short remarks).

The King writes that contray to his orders Cabo Verde was taken. It is remarked that this was done at the same time that New-Netherland was taken and hostilities were every where committed. Not before then had the States sent out their fleet under de Ruyter.

211 Antwoordt van . . . de Staten Generael . . . date 26 Nov. 1666 Aen den Koningh van Groot Brittanjen op desselfs Missive in date 4 Oct. 1666. . . . Rott. 1666. 4º. (Knuttel 9384).

(Answer of the States General dd. Nov. 26th 1666 to the King of Great Britain's Letter dd. Oct. 4th. 1666). Text French and Dutch.

212 Troef Grooten troef Tusschen Engelandt en Hollandt, Gespeelt in de tegenwoordigheyt van Een Fransman, Een Spanjaert, Een Portugees, Een Sweedt, Ende een Deen. (Met vervolgen). 1664-1665. 5 stkn. 4°. (Knuttel 8885, 8890, 9110, 9112, 9114.) (Tiele zegt: Merkwaardig ook voor de kennis der kaartspelen van dien tijd.)

(Trumps, Great trumps between England and Holland played in the presence of a Frenchman, a Spaniard, a Portuguese, a Swede, and a Dane). 5 pieces.

These discourses are most interesting. The Englishman and the Dutchman play card, and every time they throw down a card they make an allusion to some event occurred at sea or in the colonies. We hear a great deal of the West- and East-India Companies. Now and then the Dane or the Swede interrupts.

213 Juda en Israel teegens Benjamin Mitsgaders Engelant teegen Hollant... door J. Sceperus. Amst. 1666. 4°. (Knuttel 9389).

(Juda and Israël against Benjamin, or England against Holland).

Pp. 21-26 contain what has occurred on the coast of Guinea and in New-Netherland.

Heeren Staten Generael der Vereenighde Nederlanden gegeven aen Jan Reeps, en syne mede Participanten, om een Colonie op te rechten aen de West-Zyde van Rio de Las Amasones, tot aen Cabo d'Orange. Mitsgaders Een korte beschrijvinge van die Landen, Vruchten, Gedierten, en Visschen, etc. Nevens eenige opgestelde Conditien om een Compagnie te maecken... 's Grav. 1689. 4°.

(Copy of the patent granted by the States General to John Reeps, for founding a colony on the Western side of the Rio de las Amazones. With a description of the land).

„Holland in its immense activity, not content with its commerce to both the Indies, and with the flourishing settlements was continually seeking to augment its power. This accounts for the numerous colonies we see planned every year. The colony of John Reeps is one of those works we are surprised to find any trace of in history, so much it was lost sight of among greater and more succesful speculations. The extreme scarcity of this pamphlet has prevented persons more competent than ourselves from giving their opinion on the history of this colony; and it is almost the duty of those men in America who devote their studies to make the history of the new world known to us, to give us some details of this almost forgotten country". (Asher).

221 Missive van William Penn, Eygenaar en Gouverneur van Pensylvanie, In America Geschreven aan de Commissarissen van de Vrye Societeit der Handelaers op deselve Provintie binnen Londen residerende (gedagt. uit Philadelphia 26 Augs 1683) behelsende: Een generale beschrijvinge van de voornoemde Provintie, als mede: van de Inboorlingen des Landts. Mitsgaders een bericht van de eerste Coloniers der Hollanders, etc. waarby noch gevoeght is een beschrijving van de hoofd stadt Philadelphia enz. 2de dr. Amst. 1684. Knuttel 12251.

Letter from William Penn . . . written to the Directors of the Society of Merchants with this Province in London (dated from Philadelphia Aug. 26 th. 1683) containing: A general description of that Province, and of the Natives of the Country. Together with a notice on the first Settlers the Hollanders, etc. To which is added a description of the Capital Philadelaphia, 2d. ed.).

222 Een brief van een zeker Heer aen William Penn, Eygenaar en Gouverneur van Pensylvania (gedagt. London 20 Oct. 1688) beneffens zijn antwoord (gedagt. Teddington 24 Oct. 1688). Uyt het Engelsch. Amst. 1689, 4°. (Knuttel 13333).

A letter from a certain gentleman to William Penn, Proprietor and Governor of Pensylvania (dated Oct. 20th. 1688) and the latter's answer (dated Oct. 24th. 1688). Transl. from the English.
